

AUSTRALIAN AID RESOURCE AND TRAINING GUIDE (AARTG) – JAN 2009

This Australian Aid Resource and Training Guide (AARTG) is a window into which the community development (CD) or overseas aid practitioner can plug into the humanitarian/development world. It consists of four sections:

- 1) Finding work overseas or in Outback Australia
- 2) Useful Australian contacts in the aid sector
- 3) Useful Overseas or International contacts in the aid sector
- 4) A summary of known Australia aid-related training courses

The AARTG is produced by TorqAid, an Australian overseas aid consultancy specialising in Disaster Risk Management (DRM), Project Management (PM), and DRM/PM Facilitation. For more information contact the AARTG Editor, Mr Chris Piper, on pipercm@primus.com.au.

The information in the AARTG is designed for a number of people:

- Practitioners involved in Australian or overseas Community Development (CD) or overseas aid projects
- The volunteer, student or other interested person wanting to explore CD or overseas aid work, this including plugging into appropriate training courses.

The training details include mainly short intensive workshops and post-graduate training programs. These include subject areas such as development studies, project management, international health, Disaster Risk Management (DRM), Environmental Studies/Climate Change Adaptability (CCA), peace/conflict studies, cross-cultural training etc. Some of the courses mentioned are taught by distance education, and may be particularly suitable for staff working in the field.

This AARTG can be viewed on three main websites as indicated below. Electronic copies can also be requested by contacting Chris Piper directly.

- Australian Development Gateway
<http://www.developmentgateway.com.au/jahia/Jahia/pid/171>
- Australian Council for International Development (ACFID)
<http://www.acfid.asn.au/training/other-training/other-training>
- TorqAid. <http://www.torqaid.com>

Each month over 3,000 people globally are sent details of the latest monthly AARTG. These people are divided up into distribution groups as follows:

- Within Australia into States and Territories
- Overseas into countries (eg NZ, UK) or regions (S.Pacific, Asia, Africa, Europe, Americas etc)
